UPDATE FROM THE IB POA BOARD

May is for Membership. Membership means either individually or collectively belonging to a group. We're all members of the Ironbridge POA. Membership provides amenities, reduces your responsibilities, and helps keep up appearances. These benefits require us to make monthly dues payments and one of the main responsibilities of the Board is to spend your dues responsibly and effectively. We work on this task continuously and strive to be as transparent as possible. That is our membership duty to you. What can you do to be a better member?

As we prepare for our all-too-short summer, the Executive Board continues to address important matters:

- In March, the Board met with Club management to renew regular dialogue, improve communications, and foster a more productive business relationship. We'll hold these meetings every other month (with the next meeting scheduled for May). Please do not submit comments to the Board as content for these meetings. Present your concerns/comments/questions in writing directly to Club management so there are records of contact as required by Club management rules.
- The Bylaws have been amended and will be available on our website. Thanks to the Governing Documents Committee for their enduring patience.
- You have a few more chances to learn about and comment on a possible Transfer Fee Amendment to our Declarations as we decide whether to pursue this option to increase revenue. Attend a Town Hall on Monday, May 6th at 6:00 pm in The Kitchen.
- The Board has engaged a new Covenant Enforcement Officer to drive the neighborhood in the early morning hours and ensure all residents are complying with our Rules & Regulations. Visit the website for the list and avoid possible fines.
- Final decisions are being made around native road and pathway maintenance and what to do about dead trees and tree stumps along CR 109.

Monthly Executive Board meetings are held on the third Monday at 5:00 pm and may vary between Zoom and in-person meetings at The Kitchen. All members are welcome to attend.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

As the winter retreats and spring emerges the bears of the Roaring Fork Valley wake from their winter slumber, signaling the end of hibernation. During this time it is essential to be BEAR AWARE and take steps the necessary steps to ensure the safety of both humans and bears. Here are a few helpful tips:

1. Secure Your Trash: Keep garbage cans securely closed and avoid leaving trash outside where bears can access it.
2. Store Food Properly: Store food, birdseed, and pet food indoors or in bear-proof containers to prevent attracting bears.
3. Keep Outdoor Areas Clean: Clean outdoor grills, remove food scraps and avoid leaving food unattended during picnics or camping trips.
4. Be Alert on Trails: When hiking or camping, make noise to alert bears of your presence.
5. Respect Wildlife: Keep a safe distance from bears and never approach or feed them. Admire them from afar and give them space.

May is National Bike Month and there are many ways to celebrate... commute during Bike to Work Week (and Day!), bike to coffee or around the block, or ride on May 5 for National Ride A Bike Day.

BASIC CYCLING RULES OF THE ROAD

- Ride in the right lane unless you need to turn.
- Avoid sudden moves: Ride in a straight line: Avoid weaving.
- Signal your intentions: Use hand signals to indicate your intention to stop or turn. For example, extend your left arm straight out to the left for a left turn, or extend your left arm out with your elbow bent at 90 degrees and your hand pointing up for a right turn.
- Ride where people can see you: Wear bright clothing and reflective gear.
- Check your equipment: Make sure your tires are sufficiently inflated, brakes are working, chain runs smoothly, and quick release levers are closed.

E-BIKES

Generally speaking, the same rules apply to you whether you're on an e-bike or a conventional bike. E-bike riders must obey speed limits and other road signs in the same way that conventional bike riders do. Colorado's Safety Stop applies to e-bikes—e-bike riders can treat stop signs like yield signs and red lights like stop signs if it is safe to do so and as long as they do not take the right of way from another road user.

What's considered an e-bike?

An e-bike is a vehicle with:

- two or three wheels
- fully operable pedals
- an electric motor not exceeding 750 watts of power

There are three classes of E-Bikes:

Class 1 E-bike

Equipped with a motor that provides assistance only when the rider is pedaling and that ceases to provide assistance when the bicycle reaches a speed of 20 miles per hour.

Class 2 E-bike

Equipped with a motor that provides assistance regardless of whether the rider is pedaling but ceases to provide assistance when the bicycle reaches a speed of 20 miles per hour.

Class 3 E-bike

Equipped with a motor that provides assistance only when the rider is pedaling and that ceases to provide assistance when the bicycle reaches a speed of 28 miles per hour.

Where can I ride my E-Bike

Class 1 and 2 e-bikes are allowed the same access as road bikes and mountain bikes, while class 3 e-bikes may not be on a bicycle or pedestrian path unless the path is within a street or highway or permitted by the local jurisdiction. Local jurisdictions have the authority to prohibit the operation of electric bicycles on any bicycle or pedestrian path under its jurisdiction.

Age restrictions and helmet laws

No one under the age of 16 may ride a Class 3 electric bicycle, except as a passenger. Anyone on a Class 3 electric bicycle who is under the age of 18 must wear a helmet.

SAFETY

This was brought to the Management's attention by a neighbor and we wanted to share this:

"There is a person in this car going door to door inquiring about people's security system, specifically how it works and what security items you have. He said he wanted to give me a quote for a security system but when I asked for his info and business card, he could not produce one. He was much more inquisitive about what items we had installed or did not. I'm an electrician and this drew huge red flags to me. I also install security systems and would not approach a person like that showing up at your door and asking what security products you have in place to protect your house.

I'd advise you not to talk to this person or tell him what security system you have or not. It's none of his business. If you want or need a security system reach out to a provider you trust. A local licensed trusted company."

Please remember to watch out for each other in our neighborhood. You can use your phone to record unusual activity and let neighbors know if you are going out of town to watch out for your property. With an increase in suspicious activity, we all need to work together to keep Ironbridge a safe place to be!

RIVER CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

The headwaters of the Roaring Fork are found in the Hunter Frying Pan Wilderness just a little southeast of Aspen. For the most part, the river follows Independence Pass Road through Aspen proper, and from there descends into the Roaring Fork Valley. The good news for sportsmen is that nearly all the headwaters of the Roaring Fork can be accessed from public property as the river makes its way through the White River National Forest.

The designated Wild Trout Waters of the Roaring Fork run from Hallum Lake (located in Aspen) all the way downriver to Upper Woody Creek Bridge (found between the towns of Aspen and Basalt). Cutthroat., Rainbow, and Brown trout are particularly plentiful along this section of the Roaring Fork.

From Basalt to Carbondale, the river widens and gains depth as the Frying Pan River connects to the Roaring Fork proper. During high water, this is a great area for floating, and you can access the river in and around Basalt and Carbondale. All in all, this is a beautiful stretch of water with excellent trout fishing flowing down through one of the most majestic valleys in all of Colorado.

Where to Fish?

Other than along our community's riverfrontage, there are two Gold Medal stretches of water to fish from along the Roaring Fork River, both of which provide easy public access to the river for boating or floating.

The first section to visit is on the waters between Hallum Lake in Aspen and Upper Woody Creek Bridge just before you reach Basalt. The easiest way to access this area is from the Rio Grande Trail running along the north bank of the Roaring Fork. Some avid sportsmen even load their gear onto their mountain bikes and follow the trail down to fish for those elusive Gold Medal Rainbows and Brook trout that are found along this particular section of the river.

The second Gold Medal trout waters are found at the confluence of the Roaring Fork and the Crystal River just outside Carbondale. The area continues downstream all the way to where the Roaring Fork meets the Colorado itself near Glenwood Springs.

Rainbows, browns, and mountain whitefish are plentiful here. The character of the river changes dramatically along this stretch and has often been compared to fishing in Arkansas or upstream Colorado waters further to the north.

This Gold Medal stretch is a popular floating area due to the increased depth and wider river. It is also the most scenic section of the Roaring Fork with the Maroon Formation to the east and the 13,000-foot peak of Mount Sopris to the south.

DESIGN REVIEW COMMITTEE

We've been receiving recent requests for new home painting. Before you begin any project, please submit a DRB Submittal Form to Keystone Management. You can find our DRB guidelines and Submittal form at https://www.ironbridgepoa.com/_files/ugd/d1afc4_154b4159738e47918765ff75ea5d5ce4.pdf

DRB Guidelines for Home Painting

All building colors should be compatible with natural earth tones and harmonious with the surroundings. Accent colors can be used to add interest to a home.

If the trim color results in the following, the accent color is likely to be viewed favorably:

- Neatly and cleanly breaking up the mass,
- Assist in drawing out architectural features, and

- Serve to enhance the overall visual warmth of the home.

Colors that result in the following are unlikely to be approved:

- Undue attention to a specific area of the home or
- Highlighting a single, specific feature of the home is not recommended.
- Blue tones will not be permitted for the main body color but may be considered on a case-by-case basis for other areas of the home.

Sample boards with color stories (i.e., colors used as primary, trim, garage, or other portions of the home) are required for DRB inspection. As an alternative, sample colors can be painted on the home for the DRB to inspect before issuing its approval.

Adjacent homes shall not share trim colors, primary or secondary body colors, or shades of similar colors. All colors are subject to DRB approval before painting commences.

Have you walked a mile in your shoes, maybe more? Time for a new pair? Look no further than our own Tracy Bennett's Midland Shoe in downtown Basalt. Midland Shoe is a retail shoe store specializing in comfort, and fashion footwear for both men and women. The store caters more to the mountain lifestyle, rather than outdoor or designer footwear. Tracy and her staff pride themselves on customer service, where they will spend time with you to find that perfect shoe and fit.

Nothing beats being able to try on the product with in-person, knowledgeable, and friendly staff to assist you.

Tracy has lived in the Roaring Fork Valley since 1980 and began her career working at various restaurants and retail stores in Snowmass Village. Then in 1987 she moved to Basalt, became pregnant with her first child, and began to form what is now Midland Shoe. In 1992, Tracy first partnered with Veronica Miller (of now Midland Clothing in Willits) to form Midland Mercantile in the then up-and-coming Basalt downtown. Later, Tracy bought out her business partner and re-opened as Midland Shoe in 1993. For over thirty years the business has weathered many storms including wildfires, economic downturns, COVID-19, internet shopping, and the current Basalt Streetscape project!

Besides just residing in the Valley, Tracy and Midland Shoe are very involved with the community. Over the decades, she has donated to about every non-profit in the Valley. Additionally, Tracy sat on the Basalt Education Foundation Board in the early 1990s, was a member of the Town of Basalt Trustees from 1998-2006, and pre-COVID was volunteering at Windwalkers.

Tracy truly appreciates her community and sends thanks all of her customers. She would also love to meet new folks who understand and value supporting local businesses. Many small businesses wouldn't be here if it wasn't for our local community, so a big Thank You to all!

The IPOA Resident Engagement Committee would like to feature your business! Please email communications@ironbridgepoa.com if you would like to be considered. Limited to businesses located in the Roaring Fork Valley and owned by current Ironbridge residents. Thank you!

Why Pickleball is the Fastest Growing Sport

What tickles me about Pickleball – by Danielle Howard 2023

I started playing Pickleball a couple of summers ago, and my time on the court finds me with an ear-to-ear grin.

I had patient friends who got me settled into the basics of the game. I didn't think I would have the eye-hand coordination needed and was pleasantly surprised. I didn't play those types of sports – tennis, softball, volleyball and was a bit afraid of making a fool of myself. All good, I am at a point in life where I say "Bring on the fool"!

The gear looks like it was designed by a kindergarten class - pretty darn simple. While the game was not designed by kindergarteners, the history is pure genius by some parents to get their bored kids engaged. I would have had them clean out the garage, or pull weeds!

Get a paddle and some balls and you are ready to go. I do encourage you to shop for a good paddle. I upgraded and it really improved my game. Between the participants, paddles, the neon-colored balls, and scorekeeping – it all fits together for a really good time.

Being in the kitchen is one of my favorite pastimes. I love to cook! What a surprise that Pickleball has a kitchen, but the goal is to stay OUT of it. I am still refining the dink, the third shot drop, the lob, and the non-volley zone amidst ALL the other nuances of the game. No doubt, I have years of practice ahead of me.

I don't have to go out and buy the latest fashions and as long as whatever I wear has space to stuff an extra ball (on my hip, in a pocket, a third boob), I am good to go! I have found that layering is beneficial as the temperature changes – externally and internally as you get a workout.

It is addictive and highly social. This sport attracts fun people. Always willing to help a Newby out and share skill sets. Traveling somewhere? Pack your paddle and you have a great way to meet the locals. I am able to pick up a couple of games a week when I visit my grandkids on Oahu.

There is etiquette to be adhered to, just ask around and do some research online.

So there you have it – why I am tickled about Pickleball. What other sport is both ridiculous and ridiculously fun at the same time, appealing to a growing, wide array of ages and abilities.

REAL ESTATE MARKET UPDATE

Ironbridge Market Insights

In the past month, activity in our local real estate market has noticeably increased. Currently, seven homes are under contract, averaging a sale price of $1,366,429 at $595 per square foot. Notably, these homes (with the exception of the pre-construction home) have been on the market for an average of just 9 days without any price reductions prior to sale, highlighting the high desirability of our neighborhood. Moreover, five homes are available for purchase, with prices ranging from $1,295,000 to $2,595,000. Particularly in Heron Crossing, prices for new construction homes nearing completion have increased as the inventory of new builds dwindles.

Explore the one home that has changed ownership over the past 30 days in Ironbridge - it sold in just 27 days at the full asking price of $721 per square foot.

Pinyon Mesa and Aspen Glen Updates

Pinyon Mesa has seen a quiet start to the year with no homes sold since January. Currently, there are five homes on the market, with a median price of $1.7 million and $494 per square foot, and an average market time of 44 days.

	April	March	% Change
Inventory	5	6	↓ 16%
New Construction	3	4	↓ 25%
Days On The Market	210	215	↓ 2%
Average List Price	$1,66M	$1,92M	↓ 13%
List Price/SqFt	$611	$625	↓ 2%

In contrast, Aspen Glen has a broader selection with 14 properties available, ranging from single-family homes to townhomes, priced at a median of $2.875 million ($820 per square foot). However, these properties have been on the market for an extended average of 6.5 months.

Glenwood Springs Market Trends

The Glenwood Springs market is bustling with 32 homes under contract. The median of these homes offers 3 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms, listed at a median price of $770,000 ($497 per square foot), and has been on the market for an average of only 9 days. This is a significant improvement over last year, which saw 26 sales (April 25 through May 25) at an average of $409 per square foot and 92 days on the market, suggesting pent-up demand and a robust pool of eager buyers this spring. Here are the most recent sales in Glenwood Springs:

Local Market Perspective

The latest Altos Research market report suggests a slight seller's advantage in Glenwood Springs. However, it could be argued that the advantage might be more pronounced. The area only offers a very limited number of quality mid-sized homes priced around $1 million. Currently, the inventory consists of about 30 homes, with 18 averaging 3,500 square feet and starting at $1.5 million, and the additional homes offered in various conditions.

National Context

A graph from Keeping Current Matters (Source: Realtor.com) shows varied trends across the country with regions like Florida, Texas, Maine, and Arizona experiencing inventory increases. However, these national trends do not mirror our local market conditions, which remain uniquely positioned.

	April	March	% Change
Inventory	34	35	↓ 3%
New Construction	4	4	0%
